

Annual Assignment

What is the Annual Assignment?

The Annual Assignment is designed to keep you busy with your camera, inspired and focused on learning and experimenting between February and January the following year.

What is involved?

The brief is to produce a 'set' of 10 printed images to be submitted on the February club night.

Are the Annual Assignments judged?

Yes. Judging will be completed by a judge over the few weeks following February club night. The winners will be announced and certificates awarded at the March club night, with assignments on display for other members to enjoy.

Will the judge provide any feedback on our assignments? Yes, Committee will obtain written feedback on all images.

Does this Judging affect our annual points table? No, the Annual Assignment is a one off project so there are no points allocated.

Annual Assignment Guidelines

Images - all photographs must be presented in print format, minimum size 6x8

Presentation - presentation format is entirely of your own design and layup, so get out there and get creative. Max size of overall presentation 640 x 900 mm.

It is important to note that ALL images must be created during the period between 1st February and end of January following year.

The judge will be looking for cohesion from image to image, strong opening image and strong closing image.

If you have any questions or queries, please ask a Committee member.
