

Double Your Points MAY 2010

Part Two of our May “Double Your Points” night has now been completed and you all have your scores ... and more specifically, you all have your feedback from the judge.

We promised it would be an interesting exercise to review out in-house judging with that of a professional photography and I don't think we let you down. There were certainly some interesting results - some very consistent, but other completely topsy-turvy. So, as we always say, take the the viewers comments on board, think about them and then be your own judge!

The scores below now represent the total points as at 31 May 2010.
